

EDUCATE Certification of Quality

Boost Your Adult Education Efforts with the Prestigious EDUCATE Certification

In a world where digital skills are essential, the EDUCATE project takes a significant step forward by introducing the EDUCATE Certification of Quality, aimed at promoting excellence in adult education, with a keen focus on digitalization and inclusivity.

The EDUCATE Interactive Hub features a section dedicated to certifying top-notch practices and organizations in adult education. This initiative aims to recognize and reward the effective methodologies and practices of organizations teaching digital skills to adult learners. The certification not only offers larger recognition but also encourages the replication and expansion of their exemplary practices.

The backbone of the EDUCATE Certification is a well-defined set of criteria and a solid certification methodology used to evaluate best practices. This approach ensures that organizations meeting the high standards are duly recognized. The results and a detailed guide for the certification process are available on the EDUCATE Interactive Hub, making the process transparent.

The EDUCATE Certification offers a clear and accessible way to certify the best practices in adult education, allowing organizations to access proven methods to improve or expand their educational activities. This initiative helps the best practices in education to reach a wider audience, fostering collaboration and growth in the sector.

We invite your organization to participate in this continuous improvement journey. Start with a self-assessment, evaluate your practices against our criteria, and join a community of education providers who are setting new standards for digital competency in adult education.

Don't miss this opportunity to improve, share, and learn from the best - join the EDUCATE community now and take a stride towards enhancing the quality and reach of your educational practices.

Final Meeting in Vilnius

The EDUCATE project partnership met for a final meeting on 16 October in Vilnius, Lithuania.

Although the project will come to an end soon, the great achievements such as the EDUCATE HUB, the Certification of Quality, and the Sustainability & Monitoring Toolkit, as well as the friendships made during the project, will live on.

It was not only a time to say goodbye, but also the start of something new. We will return with even better, more relevant, more inclusive, and more digital ideas. Stay tuned!

What else does the project have to offer?

EDUCATE Sustainability & Monitoring toolkit

The EDUCATE Sustainability & Monitoring toolkit is a comprehensive and dynamic resource designed to support adult education organisations in enhancing their practices during periods of rapid change. This invaluable toolkit is the result of extensive research conducted by project partners, as well as consultations with experts and educators in the field of sustainability.

Drawing from real-world experiences and incorporating lessons learned from project events, staff training sessions, and feedback from the online hub, the toolkit offers a wealth of easy-to-use materials and resources. These tools are specifically tailored to address the unique challenges faced by adult education organisations in promoting sustainability and monitoring their progress. One of the key features of the toolkit is its collection of scenarios. These scenarios are based on real-life situations and provide practical examples that adult education organisations may encounter.
